CITIZENSHIP

This is OUR democracy. Every person is important.
We need your input and engagement to build our future together.

It's clear that the two main political parties in the U.S. – who, by the way, allow for no other parties to participate in a meaningful way – are not at all interested in increasing citizen participation in our democratic process. As we have seen throughout this century and the final quarter of the last, politicians want to tell us what our choices are, rather than hearing from us what it is that we want. It's easy to see the result of his approach: decreased interest in the political process, decreased activity in community-building, greater demand and dependence on government programs, often outsourced to private – even 'non-profit' - contractors, school systems arranged to program robots rather than nourish our precious, developing children, and a war on information, integrity, critical thinking and values through all forms of media.

Who will protect us? We may find one or two politicians who support community, humanity, and 'E Pluribus Unum' but most, even with good intentions, work on 'party-line' projects without thinking or caring about the whole; about all citizens building our communities together.

Citizens do not live in political parties; we live in families, neighborhoods and communities.

Politicians want us to hand over our power to them. They want us to believe the solutions to our problems can only be resolved with money or control. They want us to believe we lack the knowledge, the experience and the capacity to oversee or contribute to the remedies. We are undereducated for this moment in time and struggling to figure out who we can trust; who we can follow to a safe place where we can heal and grow. We turn to groups, to ideologies, to politicians and parties to find a safe group.

The two-party system is pitting us against each other and is at the very root of why we are no longer willing or able to work on building our commons together. Are we going to let these two parties hold us back from living a better life? We are smart! We are capable! We care! So why are we becoming less civilized? Isn't this what education is for? We can defend our right to live in a better society. We can solve our problems.

We have everything we need. We are the "Savers" that we have been waiting for.

Just imagine how politics could change when we tell the politicians what we want.

Conversations and Questions

- + What do we want?
- + What commitment can you make?
- + Physical + Emotional First Aid Kit
- + Books, webinars, advisors, training

These are just a couple of 'seed' suggestions to start your basic community-building tool kit. The tools, questions, resources, concerns, gifts, wants and needs will change for each community setting. Heck, you can create a reentry organization, if that's what society needs! ~ ;)

COMMUNITY BUILDING ASSUMPTIONS

- Everyone has an important gift (or more than one!) to share.
- Everyone has a perspective to consider.
- Build relationships to build community. Building relationships builds trust.
- Community members have a lot of power...especially together!
- Community leaders will listen to and contribute to community concerns.
- Asking questions is more effective than giving answers.
- People are better than programs! We can make institutions work for us.
