Morris County Individuals in Need of Shelter or Facing a Housing Crisis

In Morris County, our shelter and housing providers are transitioning to a system that utilizes the same master Waiting Lists for all individuals in need of shelter or facing a housing crisis. Therefore, individuals will no longer be directed to call housing providers directly. Instead, you will call 211 (24/7) and select the Homeless Hotline prompt. You will say that you are homeless and in Morris County which will prompt the hotline worker to screen you.

The assessment screening that a 211 worker will then complete with you will take between 45 and 60 minutes and will ask some personal questions that are necessary for assisting you with housing and shelter resources. It is important to answer these questions in their entirety and honestly to be appropriately assessed for services in the county. Please be advised that there may be longer than normal wait times for your call to be received since the process is underway. In the event that your call gets dropped, please try calling again.

You can choose to call alone or with your caseworker. Alternatively, your caseworker can schedule an appointment with 211 to have a 211 screener call you for the assessment process.

Please note that this process will soon be the only point of entry into shelter and housing in Morris County, so it is critical to call 211 to be assessed and put on this Waiting List.

Steps:

Step 1: Set aside an hour of your time. Call 211 (24/7). Wait times may be longer than normal with the new system under way.

Step 2: Select the Homeless Hotline prompt. Say that you are homeless and in Morris County which will prompt the hotline worker to screen you.

Step 3: Answer the assessment questions in their entirety and truthfully to be appropriately assessed for housing and shelter resources.

Step 4: The 211 screener will link you to some immediate resources in the county based on your situation. Morris County housing and shelter providers will contact you directly as program openings occur, or will request more information about your current situation to best assist you in accessing resources, shelter and/or housing services.
